TERMS AND CONDITIONS

Partnership:

Your session will appear as part of the DIF 2016 schedule and line-up but does not constitute a partnership between your organisation and the DIF or Ellen MacArthur Foundation.

Please refer to your contribution to the DIF by using the icon/logo in the Content Pack (not the Ellen MacArthur Foundation logo), and stating that you are 'contributing to the Disruptive Innovation Festival', e.g.: "We're hosting a session for the Disruptive Innovation Festival (DIF)...". You must not refer to yourself as a partner or member of the Ellen MacArthur Foundation or Disruptive Innovation Festival, nor use statements like "We're hosting a session for the Ellen MacArthur Foundation...".

DISCLAIMER: Your right to use the Ellen MacArthur Foundation Stage icon, Ellen MacArthur Foundation Stage banner, the DIF introduction screen and any other similar content provided by the Ellen MacArthur Foundation ceases when the DIF finishes. You may only use the Ellen MacArthur Foundation Stage icon, banner and introduction screen for the purposes of your presentation in and promotion of your participation in the DIF. All use must be in accordance with these terms and conditions and any other written guidance provided by the Ellen MacArthur Foundation.

Right to edit, redistribute or remove content:

The Ellen MacArthur Foundation reserves the right to re-edit, re-distribute and/or remove content we deem to infringe our communication guidelines, which are:

- No commercial agenda. Speakers should be sharing ideas or latest thinking and not commercial propositions.
- DIF sessions are platforms for ideas and insight in the context of a changing economy. Opinion and speculation are fine as long as it is clear that they fall into these categories but speakers should avoid the misuse of scientific language to make unsubstantiated claims.
- No presentations with defamatory content or with an inflammatory political or religious agenda, or use of polarising language.
- Nothing illegal, offensive or which links to dubious third party websites.
- Nothing which could (in the reasonable opinion of the Ellen MacArthur Foundation) be detrimental or damaging to its business or reputation.

All your communications relating to the DIF must comply with these communication guidelines.

PROMOTING YOUR SESSION

The DIF website will profile your event on www.thinkdif.co and host your session details on the full schedule, but you will need to promote your session to your networks too. This should include as many channels as possible such as email, social media and news/links on your own website.

Please use the Ellen MacArthur Foundation Stage logo-icon block on any communications to promote your session.

Tips for promoting your session:

- Send the invitation we provide to your network or anyone you would like to invite to your session.
- Add a banner to your website and your email signature, provided in the Content Pack
- Send updates on Twitter, Facebook, LinkedIn or social platforms telling people when they can see you host your session.
- Tweet about the topic you are presenting on and link it to the <http://thinkdif.co> / @thinkdif\_ / #thinkDIF Try to include an image that represents your idea of disruptive innovation, if possible.
- Add information on the DIF to the events page on your organisation's website.
- Use the DIF poster template, add in your own session, and put up in your company or community areas.
- Add a news item to your organisation's newsletter with the details about your upcoming session.

But please avoid Spam, including:

- Emailing or direct messaging strangers, especially in large numbers
- Using email lists from third parties

About the Disruptive Innovation Festival

The Disruptive Innovation Festival, launched in 2014 by the Ellen MacArthur Foundation, is a three-week online festival bringing together thought-leaders, entrepreneurs, businesses, makers, learners and doers to catalyse system-level change for a future economy. Offering a mix of online and global real world events, the DIF will explore ideas and technologies that are changing our economy. Participants from all over the world can attend sessions running across multiple formats and time zones and are able to apply to host their own session as part of the 'Big Top Tent' or 'Open Mic' programmes during the Festival. The DIF runs from 7 – 25 November 2016, at www.thinkdif.co.
